

Dr. Shane Sinclair is an Assistant Professor and Cancer Care Research Professor with the University of Calgary, Faculty of Nursing. He holds adjunct appointments within the Department of Oncology, Cumming School of Medicine at the University of Calgary and the Manitoba Palliative Care Research Unit at the University of Manitoba. His research focuses on psychosocial and spiritual issues within oncology and palliative care, including his nationally funded program of research on compassion. Dr. Sinclair is a former Canadian Institutes of Health Research Postdoctoral Fellow (University of Manitoba), a recipient of the Canadian Association for Spiritual Care Award of Excellence in Research, a top 40 under 40 awardee, a Covenant Health Emerging Researcher awardee, is co-chair of the Global Network for Spirituality and Health research committee, and is the current President of the Canadian Association of Psychosocial Oncology. He has given invited lectures at the European Association of Palliative Care World Congress, Duke University, and George Washington University. He has obtained $1.3 million as PI in grant funding, published 5 book chapters (4 published in Oxford University Press textbooks), and his 30+ manuscripts have been published in a number of high impact journals, garnering national and international media coverage.